

Philo Workshop

Oriel College
19 February 2026
8:45am–6:00pm

Arjen Bakker, Cambridge

Cosmic Boundaries: Philo's Hellenistic and Jewish Thinking about Time

Max Benster, Oxford

Anthropology and Cosmology in Philo's De Opificio Mundi

Katell Berthelot, Aix-Marseille University

The Roman Background of Philo's Description of the Essenes in the Probus

Joseph Harrison, Oxford

Philo and the City

Hindy Najman, Oxford

The Place of Law in Creation in De Opificio Mundi

Maren Niehoff, Hebrew University

The Essenes in Philo's Treatise Every Good Man is Free: A New Perspective

Sarah Pearce, University of Southampton

Philo's De Decalogo

Meron Piotrkowski, Oxford

Philo in Oxyrhynchus

University of
Southampton

UNIVERSITY OF
CAMBRIDGE

Centre for the Study of the Bible
Oriel College | UNIVERSITY OF OXFORD

Schedule

(All lectures to be held at Oriel College in the Harris Seminar Room)

08:45–09:00: Coffee in HSR

09:00–09:15: Opening remarks from Hindy Najman

09:15–10:00: Sarah Pearce: Philo's De Decalogo

10:00–10:45: Arjen Bakker: Cosmic Boundaries: Philo's Hellenistic and Jewish Thinking about Time

10:45–11:00: Break

11:00–11:45: Katell Berthelot: The Roman Background of Philo's Description of the Essenes in the Probus

11:45–12:30: Meron Piotrkowski: Philo in Oxyrhynchus

12:30–14:15: Lunch (in the HSR)

14:15–15:00: Hindy Najman: The Place of Law in Creation in De Opificio Mundi

15:00–15:45: Max Benster: Anthropology and Cosmology in Philo's De Opificio Mundi

15:45–16:30: Joseph Harrison: Philo and the City

16:30–16:45: Break

16:45–17:30: Maren Niehoff: The Essenes in Philo's Treatise Every Good Man is Free: A New Perspective

17:30–17:45: Closing remarks from Sarah Pearce

University of
Southampton

UNIVERSITY OF
CAMBRIDGE

Centre for the
Study of the Bible
Oriel College | UNIVERSITY OF OXFORD